How Artists Are Nominated
Artists may be nominated by any supporting member of the museum. There is also a free collection registration form for anyone wishing their collection to be considered.

There is also a free showcase where artists may sign up and create their web presence.

We believe that there are important artists who are overlooked by the financial/art world institutions and that these artists should have their body of work preserved for 100 years so that future generations, unencumbered by political and monetary agendas, may decide what is important to our cultural heritage.

First Steps

Storage at the website. Advocate for nominated artists. Publish e Books, movies and art shows for outreach to include other museums and arts groups.

1. Sustaining Members
2. Nominated Artists
3. Volunteers and helpers
4. Interactive web and database
5. Publications
6. Events and Art Shows

If you or your organization believe as we do, that art is a vital resource for future generations, then help us start the process of securing American art.
